Dr. Nibu A George delivered an enlightening session on the myriad opportunities available in the field of Physics. He discussed emerging research areas, potential career paths in academia, industry, and government sectors, and the essential skills required to thrive in these roles. The session was highly interactive, with students actively participating in the Q&A segment, seeking advice on various aspects of career planning and development.

Merit Day Celebrations:

Following the career guidance session, the department proceeded with the Merit Day celebrations. The event honored the academic achievements of students, as well as their accomplishments in sports and the National Cadet Corps (NCC).

Academic Awards:

Awards were distributed to the rank holders who had demonstrated exceptional academic performance. Their hard work and dedication were applauded by all attendees. Sobi K. Chacko recently received her PhD in Physics and was recognized during a merit day event.

Sports Achievements:

Students who had excelled in various sports activities were recognized for their outstanding performances. The department commended their efforts and highlighted the importance of balancing academics with extracurricular activities.

NCC Awards:

Special awards were presented to students who had shown exemplary commitment and achievements in the National Cadet Corps. Their contributions to the community and discipline were celebrated.

The event concluded with closing remarks by Ms. Aleena Ann Jacob, Association secretary, who thanked Dr. Nibu A George for his valuable insights and the students for their active participation. A vote of thanks was extended to all faculty members, students, and staff who contributed to the success of the event.

The Career Guidance Programme and Merit Day Celebration were highly successful events that not only provided valuable career insights but also celebrated the multifaceted achievements of the students. The combination of expert guidance from Dr. Nibu A George and the recognition of student excellence made for an inspiring and motivational day for all attendees.
